

Definition List: Chapter 20

Asiarchs: Roman administrative officials that were chosen annually by a league of cities in a province of Asia. Duties included the overseeing of the local cultic activities on the behalf of Rome.

Gnostic: Salvation through knowledge. It was a mixture of many religions.

Via Egnatia: A major East-West commercial highway of the Roman world in which Phillippi greatly benefited from.